ABOUT & DATES

www.daylightingmag.co.uk

DAYLIGHTING magazine provides a regular and relevant communication platform for manufacturers, installers and service providers involved in the provision of daylight in the built environment. It is targeted at specifiers, designers, architects and professionals working across all sectors, from domestic dwellings, to commercial, industrial and institutional buildings.

DAYLIGHTING magazine delivers high-quality editorial to its readership, giving insights into building design and technology associated with daylighting in all types of buildings from private homes, to commercial and industrial buildings.

The editorial content consists of regular topics covering rooflights and roof windows, glazing and facades, sustainability, rights to light, daylight modelling, health and safety, trade associations etc

It is the only independent magazine in the UK dedicated to the topic.

Each issue of DAYLIGHTING Magazine is delivered to a GDPR complaint subscriber email database of over 8000 individuals, falling into three main categories:

67% Private Sector Architects, Surveyors & Consultants

15% Local Authority Building Specifiers

18% Building & Roofing Contractors, Self Builders, Building Owners/Occupiers, Environmentalists, Manufacturers, Developers, Planners, Right to Light Consultants

- 1000 + copies are mailed out to the key decision makes within the industry
- Each issue available at the National Self Build and Renovation Centre
